

David B. Workman

Lominger International Associate David B. Workman is the president of The Lindmand Group LLC dba / AsiaCorp Enterprises Ltd., which teams with its clients to maximize the performance of their organization by optimizing the performance of their people.

David has extensive consulting experience in competency-based approaches to individual, team and organizational development. His expertise includes leadership and organizational development, succession planning, creating high performance teams and executive coaching.

As a specialist in executive and organizational development, David has provided consulting services to a variety of international, private and public organizations, throughout Europe, Asia and the Americas. Prior to founding his own consulting firm, David held senior leadership roles at Walt Disney World, and has had assignments as the senior vice president for human resources at Piedmont Airlines, Inter-Continental Hotel Corporation, and Marriott In-Flight Services.

David has developed numerous models to increase organizational effectiveness by linking competency-based processes and HR systems.

In 1992, he began integrating tools from the research-based LEADERSHIP ARCHITECT® and is a Master Certifier for the Suite. He is a frequent guest lecturer and speaker on leadership development and the changing role of leaders.

The focus of The Lindmand Group LLC dba / AsiaCorp Enterprises Ltd. is to help individuals, teams and organizations build current strengths, develop needed competencies and develop a strategy for effectively allocating available resources. We accomplish this through aligning individual and organizational behavior with strategic intent.

The Lindmand Group LLC dba / AsiaCorp Enterprises Ltd. uses a competency-based approach because it offers a clear and integrated set of dimensions against which present and future performance can be measured.
